VOL. XXXII.

STANFORD, KY. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1904. 3 P. M.

NO. 73

To The Democratic Voters of Lincoln County.

In view of the fact that I am now asking the democratic party of Lincoln county to entrust me with a renomination for the office of County Judge, I deem it proper that my party, as well as the whole people, should have more precise information than they now possess relative to the management of the fiscal affairs of the county during the two terms I have held the office of County Judge. I first qualified in this office on the 1st of January, 1898. At that time the fiscal court was confronted by a large indebtedness. It stood thus: Amount of old bond, $27,000; amount of bonds for pikes purchased, $36,953; total, $63,953.

In the early part of my first term, additional turnpikes were bought by the county at a cost of $20,500, making a total of $84,453. For this last purchase bonds were issued by the court. To meet this considerable indebtedness without oppression to the tax-payers, required the careful attention and best judgment of the fiscal court. I submit to the candid verdict of the people whether the requirement has been reasonably met.

First, of the indebtedness of $36,953, created prior to January 1, 1898, $33,000 was represented by 6 per cent bonds running 30 years. These bonds were taken up by new bonds, bearing only 4 per cent interest. They were sold at a premium of $1,500. By this transaction alone there was saved to the county interest at 2 per cent per annum, or $640 a year, or $19,200 for the 30 years which the original bonds were to run. To this should be added the $1,500 premium, which makes a total saving of $20,700. The remaining $4,953 was paid by county levies. Meanwhile the bonded indebtedness of $27,000, which had been outstanding for some time before I came into office, has been fully paid off. The remaining indebtedness created by freeing the turnpikes has been so managed that there is at present outstanding against the county a bonded indebtedness of only $35,000. Measures have been adopted for the gradual reduction of this sum and there is now in the treasury for this purpose $4,500.

So, therefore, it may be stated in general terms, that during my terms of office the county indebtedness has been reduced from $84,453 to $35,000, and for practical purposes this latter sum may be regarded as reduced by $4,500, amount of cash on hand.

Besides, these bonds bearing 6 per cent interest have been substituted by 4 per cent bonds, thereby economizing to the extent of $640 per year. This has been accomplished while steadily reducing the tax rate.

The first year of my occupation of the office the tax rate was 50 cents on the $100. At present it is 42 cents. I do not claim exclusive credit for this management. I have been assisted by the intelligent advice of other members of the fiscal court and the county attorney.

But I hope I may not be accounted immodest should I claim a share of whatever commendation may be thought proper because of this service. Respectfully, JAMES P. BAILEY.

"Drink plenty of coffee if there is sickness around you," said a physician. "Coffee is a good preventive of typhoid fever and cholera. This has been proven. Cholera germs and typhoid germs have been thrown into coffee and the aromatic drink has not once failed to kill the germs within an hour. Hence amid contagious conditions, do not neglect, among your other precautions, to drink three cups of strong coffee at each meal."

A Very Remarkable Remedy.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose and in 15 minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." For sale by all druggists.

J. F. Shaw lost a valuable horse by death. The animal had colic Mr. Shaw came near losing his residence by fire a few days since from a defective flue. By the heroic work of Leslie Barber the fire was quickly extinguished.

The protracted meeting closed at the Methodist church Tuesday evening. Rev. Kimble preached five sermons and mighty prayers were offered, but to little avail, as only two additions resulted from the meeting. Very little interest was manifested.

Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis, of Madison, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lunsford, W. Rodgers, of Indianapolis, with J. P. Rodgers. Misses Susie Thompson and Cora D. Sutton, of Mt. Testimony of a Minister.

Rev. J. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Democratic leaders assert that documentary evidence has been secured in Panama that the Roosevelt administration paid in secret to former President Marroquin, of Colombia, the sum of $250,000 as a bribe to secure his assistance in fomenting the revolution in Panama.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by all druggists.

As the huge machine passed over St. Louis it caused great excitement, people hurrying from their homes and places of employment to witness the flight, and practically all business was suspended. THE republicans are making a still fight in this county and district and are leaving nothing undone to put Lincoln in the republican column on next Tuesday week, Nov. 8th. Democrats can prevent their doing so by going to the polls and seeing that their neighbors do likewise. In the language of Senator Blackburn, "he who dallies is a dastard," and especially is he one if he dallies when so much is at stake as is now. Four more years of Teddy may land us all in the poor-house, or worse than that, we may be made subjects of his Strenuous Lordship. Take no chances on such a calamity, but vote certain, vote early and vote democratic.

JOHN G. CARLISLE made a powerful speech in New York in favor of Parker and Davis. The free silver men in Kentucky had heaped honors on Carlisle and his defection in 1896 when they needed him most, was a terrible shock. They could understand how Cleveland, with his Eastern affiliations, could bolt, but no excuse could be offered that would justify the course of Carlisle. But that is a matter of the past. He is no longer a citizen of Kentucky, but he is recognized here as one of the ablest men in the nation, and it is gratifying to thousands of his old personal friends to see him back in the ranks once more.

It is announced by the democratic National committee that Judge Alton B. Parker will make three speeches in three States, the first to be at Madison Square Garden, New York, next Monday night. The second address will be delivered at Newark, N. J., Tuesday night, and the third either at Hartford or New Haven, Conn., on Thursday night. Former President Cleveland will speak at Cooper Union, New York, on the night of Nov. 2, and will preside over a democratic meeting in Newark on the night of Nov. 4.

GOV. BECKHAM was greeted by 2,000 democrats at Elizabethtown. It was one of the banner meetings of the campaign and his clear, logical, earnest speech met with great favor. The Governor is going to make a number of speeches in the Third district. He is not only anxious for the success of the democratic ticket, but he is an ardent admirer of Jim Richardson and wants to do his share of work for him.

ONE week from Tuesday and the battle will be on. Make a resolution to day that you will vote early and urge your neighbor to do likewise. The only danger in Kentucky is the universal belief that the democrats have a walk-over.

POLITICAL.

Michigan women suffragist want the word "male" taken from their State constitution.

Judge Reed Nichols, democratic nominee for county judge of Boyle county, has filed suit asking that the county clerk be enjoined from placing the name of Taylor Terhune, his republican opponent, on the ballot, alleging that he has failed to present proper credentials.

John W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has canceled all his speaking engagements because of an attack of acute laryngitis, which also threatens to involve his lungs. He is now in Lexington under treatment and will make no arrangements for the future until his condition is more favorable.

Hon. John Sharp Williams will speak at Cynthiana Saturday, Nov. 5. Thomas Taggart, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, is being shadowed by two men, who followed him from New York to Indianapolis.

Richard P. Ernst, chairman of the Republican State Campaign Committee, is receiving his various county chairmen in great secrecy at the Galt House in Louisville. It is said that $100,000 was recently sent for republican use in Kentucky.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

WE are showing this season an elegant line of furs, bought direct from manufacturers. Come and let us supply your wants and at the same time save you good money. Jno. P. Jones.

THE following, which is of local interest, appeared in yesterday's Louisville Herald: "Another victim of Mrs. Fannie Pendleberry's alleged worthless checks was brought to light yesterday, when representatives of the New York Store notified Chief Sullivan, of the detective department, that the woman had presented a check for $75 in that store in payment of a bill of goods amounting to $5. The check was drawn on the First National Bank of Stanford, Ky., and was made payable to bearer. It was signed by J. C. McClary, and Mrs. Pendleberry, it is alleged, indorsed the check on the back by signing the name, 'Mrs. J. C. McClary.' When questioned regarding the signature it is said that she claimed to have been recently married to Mr. McClary. In the matron's room at the Jefferson county jail Mrs. Pendleberry stated that Miss Eugenia Blair and Will Parish gave her the checks and asked her to have them cashed. 'Because I am well known I succeeded in cashing the checks without trouble,' she said. Mrs. Pendleberry maintains her innocence and says she will be able to prove it. 'I made the statement that I was married to Mr. McClary because I thought the manager of the New York Store would otherwise think it strange for me to have the check, and my friends wanted the money,' she continued. The check came through the banks here, but as the signature was a rank forgery it was returned unpaid.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by all druggists.

PERILS OF LAND AND SEA.

Capt. Willnef's Remarkable Escape shows what to do in time of Trouble.

For many years Capt. Willnef, says the Times, of Gloucester, Mass., was one of the best known seamen in the Gloucester Fleet. The catarrhal troubles which he suffered for 15 years made him dread the nights at sea being unable to lie down and sleep on account of the constant catarrhal dropping.

Captain Willnef went to different hospitals for treatment, but could get no lasting benefit. He constantly raised yellow and green phlegm and his trouble became so unbearable and nauseating that he was ashamed to go out in company. When despairing of ever getting relief, his wife purchased a Hyomei outfit for him, and trying it before going to bed, he enjoyed the first whole night's sleep for 10 years. Capt. Willnef says, "I have used less than two bottles of Hyomei and have been cured by the remedy." Hyomei kills the germs of catarrh and makes lasting and permanent cures. Penny sells Hyomei under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief.

HORTON.—Mr. John C. Horton, one of the most prominent farmers of the Preachersville section, died Wednesday morning of a complication of troubles. He had been in bad health for years and his death was not unexpected. The burial took place in Buffalo cemetery yesterday after services at the home at 10 A. M. by Rev. R. F. Jordau. Besides the wife, five children, including Miss Callie Horton, of this office, survive, and in their irreparable loss they have the unbounded sympathy of all. Mr. Horton was born in Scott county, Va., in March 1823, where he grew to manhood. He came to Kentucky in 1852, where he had since made his home. Until the close of the war he was a lawyer and politician, holding several places of trust. In the civil war he served in the 7th Ky. as a lieutenant and quarter master general. He was a delegate to the National conventions of 1856 and 1860 and a life long democrat. Owing to injuries and failing health he retired from public life to become a farmer, to which occupation he gave more than 35 years of his life. In December 1864, he was married to Miss Nancy J. Clark, of Madison county. For nearly 40 years death was unknown in this family, the husband and father being the first to feel the touch on Wednesday last. Mr. Horton came to his death after more than the most extended age promised to man. He was the last of a large family. He had lived in Lincoln county since March 1st, 1880.

HEALTH

"I don't think we could keep house without Thedford's Black-draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys.

No Doctor

is necessary in the home where Thedford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Thedford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colds, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhoea, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

"Reub" Saw the Big Fair and Tells About It.

MT AUBURN, ILL.—Unlike a certain ancient chronicler of fame who was gathered to his fathers after only a brief perspective of the land of milk and honey, I was driven behind a span of high steppers, creditable to blue grass and turnpikes, over miles of as rich farm lands as the State boasts, and not an acre that is rated at less than $100—much that can not be bought for twice that amount.

Corn and oats are the principal crops.
Comparatively little fodder is saved.
Occasionally alternate shock-rows indicate that landlord or tenant finds market for more than the grain.

Very rarely had there been an entire crop of corn cut and shocked along the miles and miles I traversed by vehicle and rail. From Cincinnati to St. Louis, across Indiana and Illinois, the semi-occasional wheat crops vary from stages of seedling to luxuriant green which covers the ground as seen from level of a car window. At but two or three points does the topography resemble Kentucky. Black oak or black jack appeared to be the predominant variety of timber, with occasionally a dense undergrowth of bushes. Streams which we catalogue as creeks, are often rivers of the West. Along Sangamon river, which is prominently associated with the immortal Kentucky-Illinois patriot-philanthropist, Honest Abe, I saw levees which reclaim wide bottoms of otherwise valueless lands, now rated at maximum prices—perennial cornfields.

Elevations which would be classed with big Indian mounds here, are dignified in name by the prefix Mt.

Farm residences, barns and other buildings are framed and noted more for substantiality than ornamentation.
A wind mill is almost as common a part of farm equipment as cisterns are here.
Hedges and wire fencing. Now the country thoroughfares are a delight to every variety of travel, from tramp, up the gamut to automobile, which is an exclamation to farmers. On Sunday I met families in two horse wagons.

Farmers were designated whose assessments required six figures and their garb and unobtrusiveness would not distinguish them from their tenants.
By the way, of the thousands and thousands I saw, not a single manifestation of a "drop too much" was seen. At this place I met a native of Lincoln county, Mr. Silas Russell, who located in Illinois, in young manhood, covering a period of almost two generations. The venerable A. M. Feland and patriarch at Red John Bright are the only survivors of the vast numbers of contemporaries he mentioned in three hours' reminiscences of old Lincoln. Many prominent families of his day are with out a representative in name, some probably, extinct, illustrating the mournful obliterations of a few short years—so great a part of life's limit.

Of the exposition I can only generalize. Those who visited Philadelphia, Chicago and Buffalo; find little difference save in a few new fields of invention and development; otherwise advances in detail and degree. The rural sight-seer, not familiar with city life, is bewildered and overwhelmed when merged into the crush of depot and other crowds.

The jam at a circus ticket wagon and tent is suggested to a hayseed. During an hour and a half's wait at a point overlooking the throngs at the main exit after 5 o'clock, at which hour all the exhibition buildings are closed, there was no diminution of the rushing streams, and a stroll about the illuminated thoroughfares encountered the same crush in concentrated volume.
The universality of courteous response to every query, whether by official or civilian, was refreshing and the superintendent of every exhibit I heard questioned was as conspicuous for patience and courtesy as for apparent cheerfulness in enlightening the curious. Not a single discourteous response did I hear given even the most irrelevant question. The policemen are phe-nomenally gracious, and in but one instance did I hear a uniformed individual declare inability to inform—probably a member of a brass band.

Placards announcing 25 cent meals, invariably steered me against an itemized list of dishes which were priced distressingly high and necessitated adjustment of the study cap and use of pencil and t. b. i. et to figure the possibility of the limit. Usually the generous size of a steak would be enough for two and where two or more order different dishes and share, a beautiful meal can be gotten for 25 or 30 cts. An individual will find it impossible to enjoy a hearty and satisfactory meal for that price if hungry. Rarely heard of a bed at less than $1 each, even if occupied by two. At a congested hotel we were shown a collection of cots in a lumber-room like dormitory, with about as much bedding as an Igorrote would demand and he wears only a smile of contentment—when the weather bureau doesn't forecast a freeze—price $1.

A visit to the Kentucky building at noon resulted in meeting seven acquaintances. At no other place did I chance on a face which even strikingly resembled any one I know. The registers were in such demand I had to crowd in or omit that formality. All the pens but one had presumably been appropriated as souvenirs.

Ubiquitous and gracious Bob Hughes had time to spray my circle with one of his inspiring smiles, when one of my nieces, and his cousin, presented me.
Kentucky is, and deservedly, proud of her State building and its officials. Do not fail to call.

Two little maidens entertained a crowded reception room with several catchy songs and sang well, eliciting encore after encore. How I wished one or more of our girls could have electrified that crowd in culmination of the entertainment. My experience suggests advice that tourists remember that in validation of tickets they are in a surging crowd without elbow sweep and a rigid inspection of the reproduction of signature made in confirmation you are purchaser and user of ticket presented, is made. Read provision of ticket.

Buildings are not open before 9 A. M.
About half hour of intramural will encircle the grounds for a dime. Automobiles 25 cents. There are 17 intramural stations and you can spend $1.70 for the circuit by getting off at each in turn. Hope you will chance on L. P.
Ryan's car. The illuminations are gorgeous and profuse. The Midway at Chicago is the Pike of St. Louis and I can prove that I wasn't on the Pike and didn't enter a single show on the fair grounds, and your uncle Reuben has never been classed with saints.

Lest incredulous accuse me of lying and the credulous apprehend I have secured passage with Dowle in emulation of Elijah be it known of old that I occupied a front seat in baldhead row at the Odeon in unqualified enjoyment of Kiraify's spectacular Louisiana Par-chase and ballet accessories. Tom Robinson urged me not to miss it and he knows a good thing.

Any of our sculptors who hesitate about going are assured they can select from more than half a hundred models one that faithfully reproduced in Paris would relegate the original Venus de Milo to second place, compared by the American standard. Price of seat, one dollar.

I have assurances that the Boer War and Battle of Santiago are excitingly realistic in every detail of battles. Attractions by dozens and dozens.

It is improbable that another Exposition of such magnitude will again soon be so conveniently and cheaply accessible. A hustler and economist can get through on $25 to $30.

Later.—Certainly we are especial favorites of the Pates, for our train was held two hours at Decatur, Ill., to await a delayed section, and we reached Cincinnati in ample time to wait seven hours for Capt. Ben McGraw's special; and who ever rode with Ben that does not welcome even disappointment that assures that pleasure?

Madam Hayseed was of the return party and refused to permit Reub to handle her ticket, so fearful of his getting lost or taking wrong train, and never drew a breath of comfort till safe at home. When I slipped out of the station at Cincinnati she felt a sure widow, till I got back on arm of lovely laesie, met on 4th street, who flashed a shower of sunshine throughout waiting rooms for a few minutes of the dull waiting. Accompanying us to exit she didn't let go till she landed at home.
